

a new play about
art, Alheimers', and adventure

BLOSSOM

Puppetry At The Carriage House
a work-in-progress showing
by Spencer Lott
April 10th - 7pm
225 E 67th St, NY

Puppetry at the Carriage House

Thank you for coming, we're excited to be featuring two artists this season. Our next P.A.T.C.H. Artist-in-Residence work-in-progress presentation will be Tom Lee on Friday September 11, 2015

BLOSSOM

a new play about art, Alzheimer's and adventure written and directed by Spencer Lott

CAST

Jamie Agnello
Sam J Gold
Nick Lehane
Rowan Magee
Andy Manjunk
Robert Stevenson
Emma Wiseman

CREATIVE TEAM

Sound Design: Chris Gabriel
Lighting Design: Alex Jainchill
Puppet Design: Spencer Lott
Scenic Painting: Valerie Light (Infinite Scenic)

Directors Note: This is the first workshop of Blossom. The shows creator is pursuing additional opportunities to develop this new play. A heartfelt thank you to my team who gave their time, their energy, their humor, and their passion.

If you are interested in becoming involved in Blossom's development, please consider making a financial or creative contribution. Visit www.misterlott.com for more information.

A special thanks to Ariel Lauryn and Grace Townley for their unique and valuable contributions. An additional thank you to the Henson Foundation for their funding and support of Blossom and other new puppetry work. Thank you to Cheryl Henson, Z Briggs, John Barrett, Heather Henson, Infinite Scenic, Liz Lundberg, Drew Peterson, Victor Seastone and Jason Perry.

Light board equipment graciously donated by Electronic Theater Controls.
<https://www.etccconnect.com>

